EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mr. John Thomas on December 22, 2005.

The application has been amended as follows:

Claim 1, line 11, after "thereto", --the pliable material selected from the group consisting of a rubber gasket or a brush material-- has been inserted.

Claim 6, line 12, each occurrence of "by the" has been changed to --between a--.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the primary reason for the allowance of claim 1 is the inclusion of a pliable material attached to the third side selected from the group consisting of a rubber gasket or a brush material. For claim 6, it is the inclusion of the combination of the trapezoidal shaped door and doorframe, and openings between the top and bottom of the door and the frame. The prior art of record fails to teach or suggest the claimed features absent the applicant's own disclosure. Specifically, the Examiner finds no motivation to provide the third side of the panel of the Lucas reference, with a pliable material selected from the group consisting of a rubber gasket or a brush material, as Lucas teaches a readily/easily opened or closed gate having minimum friction between parts, and the addition thereof of a gasket or brush (pliable) material to the third side would increase friction between the third side and the post 10, absent reducing the size of the gate itself to accommodate the addition of the pliable material. The Lovich et al reference, though having most of the recited structure, fails to provide a trapezoidal (four sided) shaped door having an acute angle at the intersection of the first and second sides.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
